

THE ESSENTIAL HOLIDAY GUIDE

TOWN & COUNTRY

DECEMBER 2015/JANUARY 2016

JULIANNE
MOORE
THE HIGH
TASTES OF A
MOST UNJADED
STAR

SEX &
ST. PAUL'S
WHAT THE MEDIA MISSED

OLIGARCH VS.
ART WORLD
DID THIS POOR
BILLIONAIRE
GET TAKEN FOR A BILLION?
BY VICKY WARD

VACATION SOLUTIONS
FOR SCHOOL BREAK HAPPINESS

DEC./JAN. $5.99

08833

0 279111 5

BERGDORF GOODMAN ANTIQUE ICE BUCKET, COUPES (FULL), DINNER PLATES (PIGS IN A BLANKET AND AT LOWER RIGHT), AND VASE. CHRISTOPHER SPITZMILLER DINNER PLATE (BEHIND), DE GOURNAY WALLPAPER, HERMES BREAD AND BUTTER PLATES, KELLY WEARSTLER SCULPTURES, LOUIS ROEDERER CRISTAL CHAMPAGNE 2007 VINTAGE, PETROSSIAN CAVIAR, RALPH LAUREN HOME COUPES (EMPTY), AND ICE BUCKET (WITH FLOWERS). SIERRA TABLECLOTH. FOR DETAILS SEE PAGE 257.

CHAMPAGNE COUPES

HIGH Resolution

AN AULD ACQUAINTANCE SHOULD NOT BE FORGOT.

Whether you're one for an extravagant evening out or a quiet gathering at home on December 31, a glass of champagne—to mark the year that has passed and celebrate what is to come next—is certainly in order. More and more, the bubbly is flowing into the lush curves of a coupe. The speakeasy staple, which encourages a generous pour right up to the top, is joined here by our idea of culinary comfort: elegant blinis piled high with crème fraîche and caviar; and that old ballpark miniature, pigs in a blanket—a welcome addition at any table no matter how formal the occasion. Throw in festive decor in the form of gold confetti, starburst centerpieces, and kitschy hats, and the night is ripe for a fitting, fizzing toast to 2016. «

Photograph by James Wojcik Styled by Will Kahn